

SHE SUFFERED FIVE YEARS

Finally Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"I suffered for five years from female troubles and at last was almost helpless. I went to three doctors and they did me no good, so my sister advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and when I had taken only two bottles I could see a big change, so I took six bottles and I am now strong and well. I don't know how to express my thanks for the good it has done me and I hope all suffering women will try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It was worth its weight in gold."—Mrs. J. P. ENDLICH, R. D. No. 7, Erie, Pa.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record for the largest number of actual cures of female diseases we know of, and thousands of voluntary testimonials are on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., from women who have been cured from almost every form of female complaint, such as inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion and nervous prostration. Every suffering woman should send for a free copy of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

If you want special advice write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for it is free and always helpful.

EASY TO GET RID OF DANDRUFF

Dandruff means that down near the roots of your hair there is a vast army of little invisible germs or microbes. And this army never sleeps; it wages a war of destruction night and day. It destroys the nourishment that the hair must have in order to grow vigorously and abundantly.

PARISIAN SAGE now sold all over America will destroy these germs and at the same time furnish the hair with just the proper nourishment to make hair grow lustrous and luxuriant.

PARISIAN SAGE is guaranteed by Wells & Haymaker Co. to banish dandruff, stop falling hair and itching scalp or money back. It is a delightful hair dressing that wins instant favor with refined women. Sold for only 50 cents a large bottle by Wells & Haymaker Co. and druggists everywhere. Girl with Auburn hair on every carton and bottle.

JUST REYDY TO DROP

When you feel so weak that you can hardly drag yourself about—and because you have not slept well, you get up as tired-out next morning as when you went to bed, then you need help right away.

Mrs. Lea Dumas writes from Malone, N. Y., saying: "I was in a bad way run-down condition for several weeks but two bottles of Vinol put me on my feet again and made me more good than all the other medicine I ever took."

If the careworn, haggard men and women, the pale, sickly children and feeble old folks around here would follow Mrs. Dumas' example, they too, would soon be able to say that "Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron remedy, had built them up and made them strong."

It is a wonderfully strengthening and invigorating body-builder, and we sell it under an iron-clad guarantee of satisfaction. You set your money back if Vinol does not help you. Stone & Mercer, druggists, Clarksburg, W. Va.

MEN ARE PLAYED IN WARM SPEECH

At the Suffrage Convention for Not Letting the Women Vote.

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 25.—Men and his political ways were weighed and found wanting last evening by Mrs. T. P. O'Connor, wife of the Irish leader, who addressed the National Woman Suffrage Convention on the text, "Let Our Watchword be Unity." Mrs. O'Connor replied to what she termed the "old threadbare arguments" against woman suffrage, outlined what she declared were typical abuses of man's powers, and urged her sisters to "stand shoulder to shoulder and march forward together."

"If the majority of men could be convinced that it would be to their personal advantage and to the advantage of the state to accede the vote to women our fight would be at an end," she declared. "When you ask them why we don't vote they advance old threadbare arguments, the first being that all women would vote according to the politics of their husbands. If this be true, why shouldn't a man want two votes instead of one. Another argument is that if women had votes men would no longer pick up their handkerchiefs. I have lived in England twenty-six years, and during that time I have always picked up my own handkerchief and not had the advantage of a vote either."

"A man left alone in Baltimore this summer with a negro cook called her into the dining-room and said, 'Confound you Maria, I want my meals cooked better hereafter or out the door you go; I don't propose to pay you $30 a month to send in everything I eat burned to a crisp.' Look a here, retorted Maria, 'don't you talk that way to me, you just member who I is; I don't like your tone of voice, and I ain't no trash for you to holler at; you mustn't take me for yo' wife.' And finally, the great and overwhelming argument is that to give women votes would destroy man's home. It doesn't matter about women's man's home is the thing to be considered. Then there is the last weak-kneed argument, the refuge of the pessimist, that already the franchise is too large, and as women are clamoring for a vote the only remedy is to take it away from a certain number of men who have not gone through a collegiate course and cannot stand well in a spelling competition."

"Men are not to be trusted with unlimited power. But the very foundation of the relations of men and women are wholly wrong. The theory is that men toward women are wise, noble, generous, chivalrous and just; that we can trust them to make laws for us which will protect our interests; and for the rest we must by tact and diplomacy manage them. Men's great shibboleth, the thing he cries out for, is management. If he is unfaithful to his wife, she hasn't managed him properly. And what woman I ask you, no matter how good or clever she is, can make a man go her way if he has begun to go the way of another woman?"

"Women are brought up by the theory of expecting undying faithfulness, consideration, unselfishness and a taking of all responsibility from her shoulders by man—slowly but surely she has to unlearn this false lesson. There are men in the world, many of them, tenderly chivalrous to women—my own dear father was one of them. But we do not, we must not rely upon sentiment. What we want, and what we demand, is justice. An ounce of justice administered by the law with a judge and a jury behind it is worth all the chivalry in the world. More good has resulted from it than every sleeve worn by a gallant knight in honor of his lady-love."

"The laws as they stand today are inadequate. Many of them are markedly unjust to women and no reformation will take place without the franchise. Englishmen have a fine sense of justice; the trouble is not with them but with Englishmen who have been too long content to submit to injustice. Take, for instance, our divorce laws; a woman in order to divorce her husband must have unfaithfulness and bodily cruelty combined—a man unfaithfulness only. He is at liberty to take a house next door to his wife, put another woman in it, call her by his wife's name; and the wife, because he has not struck her a blow, has no redress. This in the eyes of the law is not cruelty."

"A woman in England can always get better terms, a more generous income, from a quiet separation than from a public divorce. That great Empire, King, Prime Minister, Peers, Members of Parliament, put a price upon her silence. She is bribed by the state to protect the delinquencies of her husband, and these are the laws framed, passed and jealously guarded by men to whom woman is to trust herself and her children."

"Englishmen are beginning to awake to the fact, however, that women are sentient human beings. Greatly as we shall benefit by the franchise, it is for the imperative welfare of man; and it is the duty of woman to force him to a position where injustice and arrogance and oppression are impossible. This can only come through placing a woman upon equality with man, and giving her an interest in public affairs and a vote. No matter how much the domestic woman loves a home, if she were debarred from any authority in that home she would soon lose interest in it. That is the reason why women have not more concern in politics. They are outside the arena of action, they are more spectators, not participants."

"We may not all have the eloquence of Miss Shaw, nor the energy and sinews of war of Mrs. Belmont, but we can stand shoulder to shoulder and march forward together, and when there are gaps in our ranks, fresh recruits will come forward and close them up. For we must never again stop or turn aside in our onward march. But above all let us, with hands across the sea and clasped together in good fellowship here in America, stand in unity."

BOWLING NEWS

The first game of the season of the Clarksburg City Duck Pin League was rolled on the Gore bowling alleys Tuesday night, when the Champion Druggists went down in defeat before the strong Adamston team, losing two out of three games.

The Adamston team under the captaincy of McFarlin rolled three of the best games that have been rolled on the alleys for a long time, making a total of 1532 pins in the three games. The Champion Druggists came back in great form in the last two games and rolled good scores, but they were snowed under by the large scores made by the Adamston team.

"Bill" Leachman was the star performer of the evening, making a total of 343 pins in the three games. Schon, of Adamston, had the individual high score, getting 138 in the last game.

HEADACHE?—IT'S YOUR LIVER

Too Many People Take Headache Powders When a Liver Tonic is Needed.

Try Olive Tablets—the Substitute for Calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are the one substitute for dangerous calomel. They do all of its bad after effects.

There is no necessity when you take Olive Tablets, of following them up with nasty, sickening, griping salts or castor oil as you should after taking calomel.

Olive Tablets do not contain calomel or any other metallic drugs; they are purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil, sugar-coated, easy to take, and never gripe or cause weakness.

Thousands of people take one every night at bedtime just to prevent disorder of the liver, constipation, bad breath, pimples, headache, etc.

Olive Tablets are made of pure vegetable compounds mixed with olive oil.

Dr. Edwards, calomel's old enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with liver and bowel troubles.
